The new Biosecurity Act

The Biosecurity Act 2014 protects Queensland's economy, biodiversity and people's lifestyles from the threats posed by invasive pests and diseases.

Under the Act, certain species of invasive plants are listed as 'prohibited' matter.

Species not listed as prohibited may be listed as restricted matter under the Act or may be declared by a local government under local laws.

Australian legislation administered by the Australian Department of Agriculture (DoA) also applies to the import of all plants into Australia.

What is prohibited matter?

Prohibited matter includes a range of invasive plants and invasive animals and other types of pests and diseases listed in the Act. These plants have the potential to have significant impacts and are currently not present or known to be present in Queensland.

It is an offence to deal with prohibited matter or fail to report its presence.

‘Must not deal with’ includes that a person must not do any of the following with prohibited invasive plants:

- keep or possess
- conduct experiments
- produce or manufacture
- breed
- propagate
- use
- grow, raise or culture
- distribute
- import
- transport
- dispose of
- buy, supply or use.

Reporting prohibited matter

All prohibited matter must be reported within 24 hours of being sighted to Biosecurity Queensland by phoning 13 25 23.

By law, everyone has a general biosecurity obligation (GBO) to take all reasonable and practical steps to minimise the risk of the plant spreading until they receive advice from an authorised officer.

Prompt action will protect our valuable agricultural industries, natural resources and the environment.
